

Insurance Companies Are Bastards & the Life Agent's Job as Advocate Quote

Description

"Look, insurance companies are bastards. It's not that they're evil and trying to screw the little guy out of their money. It's that they are totally, morally, apathetic. The same companies that make some of the best, most beneficial, positively incredible products for the public also sell some of the worst and most predatory products as well. The job of the insurance broker is to, understand the legislation, understand the taxation, read the bloody contracts & act as an honest & ethical advocate for their clients."
Naoshad Pochkhanawala

CATEGORY

1. Estate Planning
2. Financial Planning
3. Group Benefits
4. Visitor & Travel Insurance
5. Wealth Creation & Economic Confidence

Category

1. Estate Planning
2. Financial Planning
3. Group Benefits
4. Visitor & Travel Insurance
5. Wealth Creation & Economic Confidence

Date Created

June 9, 2021

Author

naoshad